Wraparound Services/Transition to Independence Services

Section 1. Overview: The Network Provider is funded to provide Wraparound services and/or Transition to Independence Process (TIP) model services (collectively referred to as “Program Services”) to youth and young adults 14-25 years old, and their families, with serious emotional disturbances (SED), or those who experience early onset SED/severe mental illness (SMI).

The Wraparound model is described in Exhibit T, Children’s Mental Health Services Model – Families and Communities Empowered for Success (F.A.C.E.S.).

The TIP service model prepares its participants for transition into adult roles through an individualized process, engaging them in the process of planning for future, as well as providing developmentally-appropriate and appealing supports and services (Clark & Hart, 2009). The TIP Model™ involves youth and young adults in a process that facilitates their movement towards greater self-sufficiency and successful achievement of their goals. Young people are encouraged to explore their interests and futures as related to each of the transition domains: employment and career, education, living situation, personal effectiveness and wellbeing, and community-life functioning. The TIP system also supports and involves family members and other informal key players as relevant in meeting their needs and those of the young person.

The Network Provider must adhere to the service delivery described in the ME’s FACES service model policy and procedure and the ME’s Children’s System of Care Service Model policy and procedure, herein incorporated by reference and available upon request.
